Items of Interest Picked Up By ARGUS
Reporters in Holbrook and Vicinity.

Julius Wetzler left for Williams Wednesday morning.

Sheriff Secrist has spent most of the week at Winslow.

McLaws Bros., shipped three cars of horses to Kansas Monday.

Judd Lathrop has gone over the mountains, and will probably spend most of the summer out there.

The singing girls have been excluded from the saloons in Phoenix. A move in the right direction.

The Little Colorado is entirely dry between St. Joseph and where the Shuffin and Clear Creek comes in.

After the first of June the Santa Fe flyer will be run but twice a week, but the other trains will be run the same as at present.

The Misses LeSueur and Udall who have been attending school at Provo, passed through here yesterday on their way home at St. Johns.

Fred Wetzler returned from San Francisco Monday morning. He likes California and says all lines of business seem to be in a prosperous condition out there.

Marble deposits of a very fine quality have been discovered in Cochise county. If there is anything that can't be found in Arizona, you'll have to show us.

F. W. Olive, of Nebraska, who was here last year purchasing cattle, came in from the east yesterday morning, and will spend a few weeks here for his health. Holbrook is becoming quite a place for health seekers, and we can truthfully say that there is no better place on earth.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain-balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Prices, 25 and 50 cts. F. J. Wattron.

Mrs. Louise Cross has returned from Snowflake.

A. A. W. Bley, of Pasadena, was in town Thursday.

The pay escort will be in from Ft. Apache Wednesday.

The presidential party reached Washington Thursday morning at 7:30.

Hon. George J. Stoneman, of Globe, was married Thursday to Miss Julia Hamm of Albuquerque.

Anna J. Ritter and Mabel M. Collins, government employees at Toreve Indian school, were in town Thursday.

Dr. Portz will be at Mrs. Boyer's next week, prepared to do dental work. A good chance to have your work done.

Misses Prilla and Anna Frisby, of Snowflake, were in town Wednesday. Miss Prilla was on her way to Salt Lake City to attend school.

Amos Lukens, an old Albuquerque friend, made us a pleasant visit Thursday. He is employed as lineman for the Western Union.

Bert Gravely returned from Iowa Thursday morning. He says things look prosperous back in the states, but was glad to get back to old Arizona.

Mrs. S. A. Fine accompanied by her daughter, Helen May, came down from Gallup yesterday morning, on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Zuck.

Ex-Senator Charles A. Town, of Minnesota and associates have an option on 300,000 acres of oil land in Texas, and they are organizing to purchase and operate them.

Taken from Scotts shearing corral one pair of U. S. Army glasses. Reward of five dollars will be given for any information of same.

CHARLEY D. AMOS,

Pinetop, Ariz.

P. G. Gates and Dr. Hough have joined forces and are out looking for relics, ruins, etc. We hope to be able to give an account of their investigations in the near future.

We sent out a number of statements this week, and we hope the subscribers who receive them will try and make a remittance, even if it is only a part of the amount due. We are in need of money, singular as it may seem.

We were at Winslow Tuesday and attended a performance of the Jossy Comedy Co. This company has always had a good reputation, but their performance of Tuesday evening was certainly on the bum.

If girls had less of a smattering of high-sounding knowledge, and were better grounded in the practical lessons of living, it would be infinitely better for their future happiness.—June Ladies' Home Journal.

D. C. McDill was shot by his wife at Chloride last Monday, and the chances are that he will die. Mrs. McDill had become tired of her husband spending his money in the saloons, and thought this a good and sure way of putting a stop to it.

J. D. Smithson, who has been freighting from this point for the past twenty years, will leave for Old Mexico next month, where he expects to engage in the same business. We understand there is considerable more money in this class of work down there, and hope that Mr. Smithson may do well.

Judge Jackson, Judd Lathrop and A. F. Potter returned from their hunting trip last Friday morning. They report finding indications of rich ore deposits and also of oil. While on the trip the Judge developed into a first-class "bronco buster," and may follow this as a side line in the future.

What is the matter with our correspondents this week? We have heretofore been well pleased with our helpers and have tried to use them right in every instance, and cannot see why they should use us in this manner. Wake up and let us have a little something from each town every week.

Albuquerque observed Memorial Day in an appropriate manner. A very sad occurrence was the sudden death of Alfred Heimbeck, a young man employed as watchmaker by H. E. Fox. He was getting ready to take part in the exercises when he was seized with a hemorrhage of the lungs and died in about fifteen minutes.

Northwest Editors Go Not To Jail.

The Minnesota penitentiary's newspaper, the Mirror, wants to know "why it is that from the first inception of our paper to the present time we have never had an editor to sojourn in our midst? Other professions have been well represented. Preachers we have had enough to furnish subsistence to an African chief for a year; doctors in sufficient number to depopulate a state, and enough lawyers to establish a good sized colony in Hades. But editors—not one.

Decoration Day.

Decorating the graves of the dead is an ancient custom, a religious one, scrupulously so in olden times but the decoration of graves of enemies is purely American, and while the north credits the origin to General Logan, the south most certainly led. Miss Rimbrough, of Greenwood, Mississippi, in writing to the Memphis Commercial-Appeal, says:

"It was born in sorrow and bathed in tears in memory of our immortelles. It was conceived in the mind of a devoted daughter of the southland, while tearfully listening to the plaintive notes of 'Our Banners Are Waving on Vicksburg No More.'"

"Write it on the scrolls of every Confederate camp, teach it to the southern youth, that this beautiful sentiment now claimed in the north for General Logan, had its birth in the heart of a true daughter of the 'old south.'"

"On April 26, 1865, at Jackson, Miss., when the dread news of the surrender of General Lee was first received, Miss Sue Adams, who felt so deeply, so painfully the surrender, gathered flowers, sweet and beautiful, and started for the cemetery, where rested so many of our valiant dead, to scatter garlands, fragrant, and fair. This was the origin of the cherished custom of decorating the graves of our Confederate dead. Mrs. Vaughn, formerly Miss Adams, in writing to the author of this sketch, said: 'As I went to the cemetery, Mrs. Sue Ledbetter, a sweet, patriotic little woman, who had furnished a flood of blooms for decoration, came out to overtake me, unfurling the battle-stained flag under which Colonel Burt fell in Virginia, and said: 'Take this banner and plant it over Colonel Burt's grave.'"

"She went back to the cemetery at the hush of sunset, with little girls who had come by for her, and after showering flowers on the mounds they passed, she noticed a number of graves without a leaf or bud. 'They are all alone,' she murmured, and covered them with roses and jasmines. A little girl whispered, 'They are Federal graves,' but she replied:

"'Somebody wept when they marched away. Somebody clung to their parting clasp.'"

A Terrible Explosion.

"Of a gasoline stove burned a lady here frightfully," writes N. E. Palmer, of Kirkman, Ia. "The best doctors couldn't heal the running sore that followed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve entirely cured her." Infallible for cuts, corns, sores, boils, bruises, skin diseases and piles. 25c at F. J. Wattron.

I once asked my dainty, plainly dressed maid, why working girls wore such unfit clothes on the street. "Well you see, ma'am," she said, half in pity, half in defense, "the poor things have no other place to wear them." Do you suppose that is why so many of their mistresses habitually do the same thing?—Helen Watterson Moody, in The Ladies' Home Journal for June.

Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for the lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief.

He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by, F. J. Wattron.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure catarrh by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "Snuffles the guaranteed cure" and is sold at the extremely low price of one dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"Snuffles" is the only perfect catarrh cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve hay fever or cold in the head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to consumption—"Snuffles" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discover of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuffles" the "Guaranteed Catarrh cure."

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of one dollar. Address Dept. Edwin B. Giles & Company, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia. E 626

Summer Rates to Pacific Coast.

Dates of sale May 30, June 6, 13, 20, 27, July 4, 11, 18, 25, August 1, 8, 15, 22, 29, 1901. Stopover will be allowed west of San Bernardino.

CORONADO BEACH.

The Coronado Tent City was a great success last summer and this year many new and attractive features have been added which tend to make it still more attractive.

It is located on the Coronado Beach, near the Hotel del Coronado. It is thoroughly drained.

Coronado water is piped to every part. It is lighted by electricity—and each tent can be so lighted. A dancing pavilion is convenient and a good orchestra in attendance. Hot and cold water plunge baths are located conveniently. The Tent City Restaurant has already become famous for its good service and at prices that are surprisingly low. The "Coronado Tent City Band" consists of 21 pieces and plays aboard the floating casino in the bay. The "Pavilion Orchestra" consists of five pieces and furnishes the music for those who wish to pass the time in dancing. A telegraph and long distance telephone office is located on the grounds. Furnished and unfurnished tents can be obtained at prices ranging from fifty cents per day to twenty dollars per month.

An ice factory and a steam laundry are located adjoining the Tent City, where city prices will prevail.

Excursion tickets will be sold as follows: Dates of sale June 1 to Sept. 15; going limit, day of sale; continuous passage in each direction; final return limit Sept. 20, 1901. Rate $35.

BUFFALO EXPOSITION.

For the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, May 1 to Nov. 1, the Santa Fe Pacific will sell tickets as follows: Holbrook to Buffalo $69.35; dates of sale June 3 and 4, July 3 and 4, August 22 and 23, Sept. 5 and 6; return limit sixty days west of Chicago or St. Louis. For full information inquire of agent.
